The following letter of instruction from Attorney General Taft, which is intended to affect the elections in the Southern States, is a menace to the liberties of every State in the Union. It is the most dangerousstep which has ever been taken towards an overthrow of every vestige of Strte sovereignty, and the creation of a despotism in our government. Whenever it becomes an admitted fact that the President can authorize his United States marshals and their deputies, who are under his appointment, and subject to his removal, to take control of the nation as completely as they are authorized to do in this letter, there will be no difficulty in proclaiming himself dictator, emperor or king, as he may choose. The judgment of the United States marshal or his deputy is made supreme, and whenever he thinks that any public meeting is calculated to intimidate voters he is authorized to disperse it. All the powers of the State, from the Governor down, and all the United States troops in the vicinity are subject to his orders. The theory advanced in the letter is not consistent with the form of our government, and cannot be put into execution. Indeed we do not believe it was ever intended to be carried out. It was simply intended to furnish a little more grist for the outrage mill, which has about ceased running. If these marshals in the South can contrive to get up some disturbance, the contribution of the President and have his approval. Very respectfully, your obedient servant, (Signed,) Alphonso Tapt, Attorney General. they will accomplish the desired end. This letter, however, is not calculated to The accepted Amendments.

We publish this morning the Thirteenth, Fourteenth and Fifteenth Amendments to the Constitution, for the benefit of any colored citizens who are apprehensive of what the Democracy may do when they come into power. The Democratic Convention has, in the name of the Democracy of the State, distinctly pledged every Democrat to the support of these amendments. It would be well for Democratic speakers to keep copies of these important alterations of the Constitution always on hand, and the explanation should always be full as to the utter impossibility of interfering with them. It is almost superfluous to say that the adoption of the amendments has forever settled all questions as to the validity of the Reconstruction Acts: benefit the Republicans with the independent voters of the North, for they are not yet prepared to cast their liberties into the keeping of any one man, however good and pure he may be-much less are they willing to confide those liberties to the caprice of a single man elevated to office by the Belknaps, Schenks, Babcocks, Grants, Mortons and Blaines of America. The letter is addressed to Gen. Sherman, for the guidance of United States Marshals, and is as fol-

Washington, September 4, 1876.
Sin—The laws of the United States having made it my duty to exercise general direction over marshals in the maneral direction over marshals in the manner of the discharging of their offices, I have prepared for their use this circular letter of instructions as to the coming elections, intending the same also as a reply, once for all, to numerous applications in like connection from private citizens in various States. In the present condition of legislation, the United States occupy a position toward voters and voting which varies according as the election is for State and other local officers only, or for members of Congress and Presidential electors. In elections at which inembers of the House of Representatives are chosen, which, by law, in-Presidential electors. In elections at which inembers of the House of Representatives are chosen, which, by law, include elections at which the electors for President and Vice President are appointed, the United States secure voters against whatever, in general, hinders or prevents them from a free exercise of the elective franchise; extending that care alike to the registration lists, the act of voting and the personal freedom and security of the voter, at all times, as well against violence on account of any vote that he may intend to give, as against conspiracy because of any that he may already have given. The peace of the United States, therefore, which you are to preserve and whose violation you are to suppress, protect, among others, the rights, breaks that peace, and renders it your duty to arrest him, and to suppress any riots incident, or that threaten the integrity of the registration or election, to the local that the will of the people in such election may be accertained, and take effect, and that offender, may be brought, before the courts for punishment. Notorlous events in several states, the rights preferred in the United States, and of the State and of the United States; and subject to the jurisdiction thereof are citizens of the United States, and and of the State and of the States and of the State and of the State and of the State and of ple in such election may be ascertained, and take effect, and that offender, may be brought before the courts for punishment. Notorious events in several States which recently and in an unusual manner have been publicly reprobated, render it a grave daty of all maraha's who have cause to apprehend a violation of the peace of the United States, connected as above with the elections, to be had upon the Tuesday after the first Monday in November next, to be prepared in November next, to be prepared to preserve and to restore such peace. As the chief executive officer of the United States in your district, you will be held responsible for all breaches of the peace of the United States which will be held responsible for all breaches of the peace of the United States which diligence on your part might have prevented, and for the arrest and securing of all persons who violate that peace in any of the points above enumerated.—Diligence in these matters requires, of course, that you be and continue to be present, in person or by deputy at all places of registration or election at which you have reason to suspect that the peace is threatened, and that whenever an embodiment of the posse comitatus is required to enforce the laws, such embodiment be effected. You will observe that the "special" deputies mentioned in section 2,021 of the Revised Statutes have peculiar duties assigned to them—duties which otherwise do not belong to deputy marshals. Such "special" deputies can be appointed only in cities of twenty thousand inhabitants or upwards; but the duties assigned to marshals and their deputies whether they be general or be special within the meaning of that and the preceding sections. Deputies to discharge this latter class of duties may be appointed to any number whatever, according to the discretion of the marshal charge this latter class of duties may be appointed to any number whatever, according to the 'discretion of the marshal in all States where sheriffs have a similar power. Section 2,080 has no practical bearing upon this point in States where no limit is imposed upon the appointment of deputies by sheriffs, because in such States the laws of the United States "prior to the 10th of June 1872" Lee "prior to the 10th of June, 1872" tell, marshals also unlimited as to the number of their deputies." In discharging the duties above mentioned, you will doubt less receive the countenance and apport of all the good eitiging of the United States mainly rely on their endeavor to emforce and support, the United States mainly rely on their endeavor to emforce the right to yote which they have given or have secured.
